Lions To Promote Eye Donations

Richmond, Va. - Members of Lions Clubs in eastern, central, and northern Virginia have joined in forming a speakers bureau which will operate throughout those areas in encouraging members of the public to donate their eyes, on death, to the Old Dominion Eye Bank.

Volunteer speakers have been provided with special informational kits and with audio visual aids for the presentation of programs to groups, clubs, and other organizations throughout their coverage area. An interesting motion picture on sight restoration through corneal transplantation is available for showing to such groups.

Representatives of organizations wishing to have an eye-donation program presented to their membership may contact any member of a Lions Club or may write directly to Old Dominion Eye Bank, 408 North 12th St., Richmond, Va.

Mainly through the efforts of Virginia Lions, almost 50,000 Virginians have already signed up as eye donors. According to R. Kenneth Hudgins the Executive Director of the eye bank, many more are needed if sight is to be restored to all those blind individuals who can be helped by a corneal transplant.

Joins Virginia Division Industrial Development

Robert F. Morse has joined the Virginia Division of Industrial Development as an industrial development representative, J. Frank Alspaugh, Director, announced today.

Formerly project manager and head of the Mechanical Engineering Department of Wiley and Wilson's Richmond office, Morse joins a staff of eight industrial representatives whose function is to interest and assist industries in locating manufacturing plants in Virginia by presenting the State's assets and attractions to such industrial prospects.

Prior to his affiliation with Wiley and Wilson, he was a partner in Brandt and Morse of Richmond, a consulting engineering firm.

A native of Louisiana, Morse attended the University of Virginia and received a Bachelor Degree in Mechanical Engineering in 1950.

Morse is a member of the National Society of Professional Engineers, the Virginia Society of Professional Engineers, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, the American Society of Heating, Refrigeration and Air Conditioning Engineers, and the engineering fraternity of Theta Tau.

He and his wife, the former Therese Wilkins of Charlottesville, live at 3612 Traylor Drive in Richmond.They have two children.

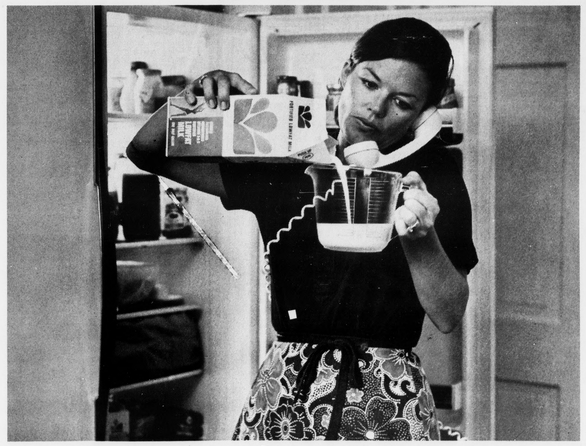
JANE, CLOSE THE REFRIGERATOR DOOR. QUICK.



You'll be on your way to a slimmer figure in more ways than one.
Because it's not the economical electricity you use that gets your bill out of shape; it's the electricity you waste. That refrigerator door you held open again. Those full loads of hot hot water for a dishwasher that's only half full. The front porch light that's been on since you came home from the movies last night.
Tips to help you reduce wastes like these—and get the most for your electric dollar—are what our new money-saving booklet is all about. It's called "How to Save on Your Electric Bill." it's available free at any Vepco office—and it's full of simple money-saving suggestions for every room in the house.
Today's electricity is more convenient than ever, but we want you to enjoy the economy, too. So we hope you'll make it a point to stop by or call for your copy of "How to Save on Your Electric Bill" soon.
It's the answer to a waste-watcher's prayer.
